

St. Therese of Lisieux: The Little Flower

"In my little way everything is most ordinary; everything I do must be within the reach of other little souls also."

- St. Therese of Lisieux

Drama

This one-woman drama follows St. Therese from childhood into the convent and brings to light her humanness as well as her deep spirituality. Realizing that she had many of the same feelings and struggles that we all do allows us to identify with her longing for God and with her frustration when she fell short of perfection. The simple, frank, and sometimes humorous dialogue encourages us to believe that we, too, can become saints by following her "Little Way" to Heaven.

About Aimee

Speaker, writer, and dramatist Aimee Morvant encourages us to embrace God in various aspects of life. From humorous to touching, her unique perspective offers new insight into God's presence in our lives.

A native of Southwest Louisiana, Aimee began writing and performing skits and songs for Vacation Bible School while in high school. She went on to speak at youth events and take part in clown ministry while earning a Business Communication degree from the University of Southwestern Louisiana in Lafayette. Since moving to Sugar Land, Texas with her husband and four children, Aimee continues her Vacation Bible School ministry and is part of her parish women's retreat team. She is currently working on her first book, And a Cup of Tea: Reflections of God in the Everyday. Aimee has led programs and retreats and has performed at regional and national conferences.
